

Assumption	Level of Confidence in Accuracy
Sport and active recreation have strong cross-societal support	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
There is strong collaboration and alignment across the sport and recreation sector	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Enabling Māori to participate in ways that allow for cultural expression fosters a positive Māori experience in play, active recreation, and sport.	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The sport and recreation sector has the capability to deliver quality active recreation and sport opportunities to young people	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The sport and recreation sector has the capacity, including sufficient volunteers, to deliver quality active recreation and sport opportunities to young people	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Total funding levels for sport and active recreation will not decrease	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Local government will not decrease its support for play, active recreation, and sport	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The sport and recreation sector sufficiently adapts to change to remain viable and relevant	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Evolving priorities do not change government support for Sport NZ's strategic direction	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The sport and recreation sector has effective mitigation and adaptation plans to respond to climate change	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The use of digital platforms has little negative impact on participation in play, active recreation, and sport	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Changing working life and leisure patterns do not negatively impact participation in play, active recreation, and sport	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Integrity frameworks will adapt to emergent challenges and maintain public confidence in fair competition and athlete wellbeing	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
Public attitudes to elite sport and elite sporting events will remain positive	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10
The current funding model for high performance sport in NZ remains fit for purpose	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

 Current level of confidence